

Dear ASG Cabinet and students of Allegheny College,

Ever since I can remember I have been told that I am natural leader and a personable conversationalist. My peers, friends, family, and teachers have always encouraged me in the past to be in charge of many things at my high school that have had a positive impact on our environment of the student body. With this support and successful outcomes of my positions during high school, it has helped me obtain confidence with pursuing different positions during my first year of college. Since I have a full year of college under my belt, relationships with a widespread of people, networked with my professors and Allegheny staff, I have the ability to listen to the student body effectively and apply that knowledge to better our community. Some of my strengths include my ability to learn from my mistakes, flexibility with my schedule, effective communication with my team members, and being able to look at the whole picture in order to get the best outcome. However, I have some weaknesses too when it comes to group activities which are being too honest when it comes to asking for the majority opinion and patience. I feel that being a part of a group of people that all want the same outcome for all students at allegheny and the community will not only help me overcome my weaknesses, but better my strengths and create new ones. I know you are looking for someone who is dedicated, sympathetic, hardworking, creative, and flexible and I can guarantee you that I can give you those qualities throughout my position on Senate.

Thank you for considering my application,

Grace Proper
